Air Quality Forecast for the UK

Issued by the Met Office

Today: Isolated Moderate levels of air pollution are possible in urban centres of southern England, with light winds and some mist and fog patches allowing for the build up of local pollutants. Otherwise Low levels of air pollution are expected.

Tomorrow: Early cloudier skies with some rain will be followed by colder and clearer air moving southeast across the UK. With brisk winds also developing, air pollution levels will remain Low.

Outlook: Cold, clear conditions Thursday and Friday with Low air pollution levels. These likely persisting at Low Saturday, but a small chance of Moderate where winds become light across the southwest.
